

You like Vu TelePresence™ because you earn high margins... your clients get Vu'ed because it's cool.

Telepresence and video conferencing has become hot! The great thing is: it's getting even hotter. Another great thing: selling telepresence and video conferencing is very similar to selling VoIP. So why aren't you selling it today?

Some of the reasons could be:

1. The high-end systems are expensive, difficult to install, require large amounts of bandwidth, and usually yield low margins for resellers and distributors.
2. The affordable or free systems do not deliver sufficient value, reliability, or margin to warrant your time invested.

The Bottom Line: the good systems are highly priced, require expensive bandwidth, and are unwieldy to manage for most SMB clients. The free or low cost systems don't perform at a high enough standard for true business collaboration or simply are not reliable.

Now, my friends, we at Vu TelePresence™ have developed, manufactured and provided you a true telepresence/video conference system designed specifically for the SMB:

1. Earn high margins so your time invested in making a sale is worthwhile.
2. Pricing designed for the SMB market with optional monthly plans starting at $2299.00 or $79.00 per month.
3. No channel conflict.
4. Easy to install - doesn't require a rocket scientist.
5. Low bandwidth requirements; standard business cable works fine.
6. Cost competitive - extremely affordable for the small business.

We would love to speak with you on this unique opportunity to easily include Vu TelePresence™ as part of your product offerings. Call us today at 724-452-2930!
